Dear Student,

Welcome to the Bachelor’s Preparatory Programme (BPP) of the Indira Gandhi National Open University (IGNOU). You will obviously be curious to know about the IGNOU. Let us, therefore, understand the University and its system of operations.

1. THE UNIVERSITY

The Indira Gandhi National Open University was established in September 1985 under an Act of Parliament. The need to create an Open University in India was felt because it was recognized that people of the Indian subcontinent particularly the disadvantaged and the marginalized who have no means or opportunity to pursue higher education need to be provided access to it. The IGNOU was set up with the purpose of reaching to those who cannot or have not been reached by the conventional system of education and providing them quality education in a way that they are able to make the most without being disjointed from their day-to-day activities.

Objectives of the University

The Indira Gandhi National Open University is engaged in:

- democratising higher education by taking it to the doorstep of the learners
- providing access to quality education to all those who seek it irrespective of age, region, religion and gender
- offering need-based academic programmes by giving professional and vocational orientation to the courses
- promoting and developing distance education in India
- setting and maintaining standards in distance education in the country as an apex body.

Prominent Features

IGNOU has certain unique features such as:

- international jurisdication
- flexible admission rules
- individualized study: flexibility in terms of place, pace and duration of study
- use of latest information and communication technologies
- nationwide student support services network
- cost effective programmes
- resources sharing, collaboration and networking with conventional universities, open universities and other institutions/organisations
- socially and academically relevant programmes based on students’ need analysis
- convergence of open and conventional education systems.
Instruction and Learning System in IGNOU

The methodology of instruction in the Open University system is different from the teaching system followed in the other universities. Unlike the conventional teacher-oriented system, the Open University system, as you will experience, is an interactive system. In fact it is more learner-oriented and invites your participation in learning.

Use of Multi-media

Functioning of the Open University system is characterized by use of emerging technologies in distance education where the entire teaching learning operation is based on multi-media (a combination of media), and self-learning materials (lessons through print material are complemented and supplemented with video and audio inputs to produce an integrated and well synthesised presentation). Since it will be a new experience for you, it is natural that you may have many doubts and queries at different stages of learning. At such junctures you may desperately need a person who is able to answer your questions and lay your doubts to rest. You may send us some of your queries through letters; some of you may hesitate to do so and feel all alone and isolated. This Programme Guide will help you to overcome the feeling of isolation and will also answer some of your queries.

Bachelor's Preparatory Programme (BPP): An Overview

BPP is a Bridge Course of six months’ duration for those who do not have 10+2, but attained the age of 18 years, seeking admission to IGNOU’s first degree B.A./B.Com etc. under non-formal stream.

It is an enabling programme of IGNOU with a fee of Rs 1200/-. The programme is developed to provide an opportunity to those learners (many of whom would be adults) who could not pursue their school education up to 10+2 or to its equivalent level (and do not wish to enrol in school now) but do want to undertake higher education now. The objective of this Programme is to provide such learners a basic grounding in areas of study which they may pursue for Bachelor's degree or other such diplomas or certificates. The Programme will provide them an opportunity to get used to the system of teaching learning offered by an Open University. It will also help learners to evaluate themselves to determine their ability to cope with the present day demands of higher education.

The Programme consists of three courses of which any two may be chosen by learners:

1. Preparatory course in General Mathematics (OMT-101)
2. Preparatory course in Commerce (PCO-01)
3. Preparatory course in Social Sciences (OSS-101)

After successful completion of this programme IGNOU provides a wide choice of subject for further studies. The major programmes which can be chosen after BPP are Bachelor of Arts (BA), Bachelor of Commerce (B Com), Bachelor of Social Work (BSW), Bachelor of Tourism Studies (BTS) and several Diploma and Certificate Programmes. You can obtain a list of these Diploma and Certificate Programmes from the Prospectus or the website of the University (www.ignou.ac.in)

At no stage BPP is treated at par with 10+2. It is also not treated at par with Matric/Inter. No Certificate is issued on completion of BPP. Candidates are admitted to IGNOU’s B.A./B.Com etc. (under non-formal stream) on successful completion of BPP (i.e. continuous evaluation as well as term-end examination).

You might have many more queries and questions regarding BPP. Some of the anticipated questions and their answers are provided in Section 2.
2. ANTICIPATED QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Is BPP an essential pre-requisite for my entry to a BA/ B COM, BSW and BTS Degree Programmes?

Of course, but only for those of you who have not passed the 10+2 or an equivalent examination.

Q1. What are the aims of this Programme?

The Programme aims to

i) give you some grounding in General Mathematics (if you opt for OMT-101), which is an important element in the pursuit of knowledge

ii) familiarise you with the basic concepts, knowledge and role of Social Sciences if you want to study for the BA degree

iii) provide you a base in Commerce if you choose to pursue the B Com degree

iv) help you in getting accustomed to the distance education system of this university

Q2. How many Preparatory Courses am I required to do?

BPP consists of three Preparatory Courses, out of which you will have to opt two. You may choose two from the following courses:

1) Preparatory Course in General Mathematics (OMT-101)
2) Preparatory Course in Social Sciences (OSS-101)
3) Preparatory Course in Commerce (PCO-01)

None of the above course is compulsory. We would, however, advice that if you propose to study for the B Com degree in future, then you should take Preparatory Course in Commerce. If you wish to do BA or BTS then you should take Preparatory Course in Social Sciences. The second course in both the cases will depend on your choice and inclination.

For entry to any other programme you may take either of the combinations.

Q3. Will the marks secured in Preparatory Course add up for my BA / B Com, Degree?

No. The Course is intended to give you a general understanding of Social Sciences or Commerce and, of course, Mathematics, because you need to make up for the plus two standard. For BA/BCom you have to successfully complete 96 credits separately.

Q4. When can I seek admission to BPP in IGNOU? Can I seek admission online?

BPP is offered both in January and July cycles of admission. Admission to BPP for the January cycle is open from September to November of the preceding year. Similarly, for the July cycle, it is open from April to June. Please check the admission notification on the University website for exact dates. Please note that the, being a 6-months programme, there will be no extension of this time period for admission. Admission to all IGNOU programmes are now done only in the online mode. So you have to necessarily apply for admission to BPP only online. You may visit www.onlineadmission.ignou.ac.in for submitting your application online.

For enquires you may write/call on : 011-29571528, 011-29572513

Q5. What is the medium of instruction?

We impart instruction through Hindi and English medium.
Q6. What is the evaluation process?

The evaluation consists of two parts (i) continuous evaluation through assignments and (ii) term-end examination.

Q7. Could you explain them in detail?

Term-end examination (TEE) is held twice a year — in June and December. If you join BPP in January cycle you will have a chance to appear in June TEE. If you join the July cycle you will have a chance to appear in December TEE. If a student fails to qualify in the June examination, s/he can appear again in December examination of that year. However, a student who fails in both the attempts in a year will be required to appear for the examination again in the following year. A total of four chances are allowed to successfully complete the programme.

A student will be required to answer 50 Multiple Choice Questions (MCQs) each in the two courses offered by him/her. It is necessary to secure minimum of 35% marks in each course in order to qualify a term-end examination.

Q8. Will I have to complete assignments?

You have to submit one assignment each for the two courses of BPP chosen by you. You should submit the assignment before appearing in the TEE. Assignments carry 30 per cent weightage. You should submit the assignments by March 31 if you plan to appear in June TEE and by September 30 if you plan to appear in December TEE. If you clear the assignment but fail in the TEE, you need not submit the assignment again. Submit the assignment to the coordinator of your study centre.

Q9. How should I appear for Term-end Exam?

Students need to fill up examination form online. Details available on www.ignou.ac.in. The schedule for filling up examination form is given in section 3(d).

Q10. What happens if a student clears the Term-End Examination but does not take admission in Bachelor's Degree Programme in the same year?

Once the admission offers are sent to the students it will remain valid for two years including the year for which admission is given.

Q11. Suppose someone has cleared the BPP examination but does not join even two years later?

On successful completion of BPP, students are eligible to seek admission in 3 (three) consecutive chances, as per example shown below:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>TEE qualified</th>
<th>Opportunity for seeking admission to B.A/B.Com etc.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>1st chance</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

If the students fail to avail all the three opportunities, then they will have to seek fresh admission in BPP like any other new candidate of non-formal stream and clear it once again.
BPP, being a non-credit course, no credit transfer will be allowed if a student has completed a course in part or in full in the previous enrolment.

Q12. Is first degree obtained under non-formal stream valid?

B.A./B.Com/BTS/BSW degree obtained under non-10+2 stream, i.e. through BPP, is a valid degree as per University Grants Commission (the minimum standards of instructions for the grant of the first degree through non-formal/distance education in the faculties of Arts, Humanities, Fine Arts, Music, Social Sciences, Commerce and Sciences) Regulations, 1985 published in the Gazette of India vide Notification No. F.I-117/83 (CP) dated 25th November 1985. UGC has subsequently amended the Regulations and published in the Gazette of India vide Notification No. F.I-117/83 (CPP-II) dated 18th October 1995 reducing the age limit from 21 to 18 years.

In addition to the above responses given to some of your anticipated queries, if you still have some queries which you think have not been answered here, please write to the relevant Division mentioned in, ‘List of some Useful Addresses’ provided in this Programme Guide itself.

4. DESIGN OF THE LESSONS (UNITS)

Let us now look at how a Block and its Units are structured in the Preparatory Course material. The first page of each Block indicates the number and title of the units comprising the Block. This is followed by a brief introduction to the Block. Generally the design of a Unit is as follows:

Unit – X*

X.0 Objectives
X.1 Introduction
X.2 Section 1 (Theme of Section 1)
  X.2.1 Sub-section of section 1
  X.2.2 Sub-section of section 1 Check your progress/exercise 1
                      .................................................
                      .................................................
                      .................................................
X.3 Section 2 (Theme of Section 2)
                      .................................................
                      .................................................
                      .................................................

* Stands for unit number
 In some cases the Objectives and Introduction are combined under Section X.1 and the sub-sections have not been numbered.

The number of sections in a unit may vary and the numbering of sections will conform to the number of sections.

The last four sections in each unit will generally be
  ● Let Us Sum Up
  ● Key Words
  ● Some Useful Books
  ● Solutions/Answers

In the Preparatory Course in Commerce there will be an additional section at the end – ‘Self Assessment Questions/Exercises.’
All the sections will be numbered in a continuing serial order.

As you see in the above design, the Units are divided into many sections and sub-sections for easy reading and better comprehension.

Each section is indicated distinctly by bold capitals and each sub-section by relatively smaller but bold typeface. The significant divisions within each sub-section are in still smaller bold typeface, so as to make it easier for you to see their place within sub-sections. The items which need to be highlighted are numbered. For the purpose of maintaining uniformity we have followed the same design in every Unit throughout all the courses. In the section, ‘Let Us Sum Up’, we summarise what has been discussed in the whole unit to enable you to recall the main points. We explain difficult word/terms under the section, ‘Key Words’ to facilitate comprehension.

The last section, ‘Some Useful Books’ is meant to suggest some books for ‘supplementary reading’.

In each unit, we have provided you with self-check exercises under the caption, ‘Check Your Progress’, at a few places. Each unit invariably ends with answers to the questions set in these exercises. Self-check exercises are printed in a different font so as to distinguish them from the main content. Enough space is provided for you to write your answers to the questions of these self-check exercises.

5. MAKING THE BEST USE OF STUDY MATERIALS

After receiving packets of printed course material from the University you must check that you have received the complete material and nothing is remaining. If any Block(s)/study material does not reach, please contact the Regional Director immediately. Before starting your studies, you should chalk out a regular study schedule so that you can study for 2 to 2½ hours daily. What you should do is to go through the units and note down the important points in the margins or in a separate note-book whichever is convenient to you. For quick and easy reference, we suggest that notes may be taken in the margins. You need not make long notes; just few phrases, charts or diagrams would be sufficient. The points you may have noted down will help you later in answering the self-check exercises. You may as well go through the pages to find the relevant answers to the questions.

We would like you to use the blank space provided in each unit for answering the self-check exercises.

Never overlook or skip a word or a statement you do not fully understand. Look it up immediately in a dictionary or another unit where it may have been explained, or contact the counsellor at your Study Centre. These activities will enable you to keep track of and assimilate what you have been reading in a Unit.

We would also like to mention here that the self-check exercises are not meant to be submitted to us for correction and evaluation. As the caption ‘Check Your Progress’ itself suggests, the exercises are intended to help you to evaluate your understanding and keep on the right tract as you read the Units. The purpose of giving self-check exercises will be served satisfactorily, if you compare the answers, which you might have written in the blank space, with the answers given at the end of each Unit. We do hope that you will resist the temptation of having a furtive glance at the model answers while writing your own answers to the questions.
Some Useful Books for Supplementary Reading

The course units sent to you are fairly comprehensive and self-instructional. Titles of some useful books for supplementary reading are provided in the section, ‘Some Useful Books’. The purpose is to help you to do some extra or supplementary reading. Most of these books will be available at the Study Centres and those of you who are interested in adding to your knowledge can read the relevant portions from these books at your Study Centres.

6. FUNCTIONS OF REGIONAL CENTRES AND STUDY CENTRES

Regional Centres and Study Centres have been set up all over the country (Please check our website www.ignou.ac.in for details of the Regional and Study Centres available across India) to extend necessary support services to students. You will be allotted one of these Study Centres taking into consideration your place or residence of work. However, each Study Centre can handle only a limited number of students and despite our best efforts it may not always be possible to allot Study Centres of your choice. Details about the Study Centre to which you are assigned will be communicated to you later. Every Study Centre has:

- A Coordinator who is the overall incharge of the Centre
- Supporting Staff: Assistant Coordinators and class III and IV category of staff appointed on a part-time basis
- Counsellors in different subjects to provide counselling and guidance to you in the subjects of your study

A Study Centre provides the following:

i) Tutorial/Counselling: It is an important aspect of the Open University System. Face-to-face contact-cum counselling for the Preparatory Courses will be provided at Study Centre. Detailed Programme of the contact-cum-counselling sessions will be sent to you by the Coordinator of your Study Centre. In these sessions you will be able to discuss with the counsellors your difficulties pertaining to the courses of your study. You will also be able to have interaction with your fellow participants.

ii) Books, Audio and Video Library: Every Study Centre has a library containing relevant course materials, reference books suggested for supplementary reading as well as audio/video materials specially prepared for the course(s).

iii) Information and Advice: You will be given relevant information on administrative and related matters by the Coordinator and secretarial staff at the Study Centres.

iv) Equipment: The Centres will be provided with audio/video equipment to help you make use of audio and video cassettes prepared for different courses.

v) Opportunity for interaction: Facilities for interaction with fellow-students, which could lead to self-help groups. Suppose you are not able to answer a question yourself, you and your fellow students in your class or sometimes your seniors can collectively try to work out answers. Such groups can also help you in preparing for term-end examinations. You can organize Seminars, Quiz sessions, Group discussions and other group activities. You may even think of planning small social gatherings. These would break your isolation and provide conditions in which you may interact freely with your colearners. We hope that this would enhance your learning ability a great deal.

Please bring all your Units along with you, when we invite you to attend a contact programme, so that the face-to-face communication may prove more effective and purposeful.

7. MAKING THE BEST USE OF THE FACILITIES OFFERED BY IGNOU

We have attempted to give you an overall picture of the Preparatory Courses. Here are a few major points:

1) We do keep a record of your progress. You will hear from us from time to time about classes and examinations. Please file all circulars and letters that we send you. Keep this Programme Guide handy.

2) Do write to us if you have any difficulties or problems while doing the Preparatory Courses.

3) Remember to inform sufficiently in advance if there is any CHANGE OF ADDRESS. If it is temporary do let us know. This will help us to send you courses material and letters promptly, without any risk of their being lost.

4) All types of communication (letter, applications, etc.) will be attended to as quickly as we can. It is, therefore, desirable you make your letters brief and precise. Letters should avoid irrelevant details. They should not be written in ambiguous language, so that we can reply promptly and take appropriate action.

5) We reserve the right to change the rules detailed in the Programme Guide to Preparatory Course. You will be informed about such changes through supplementary circulars, well in advance.

8. OPTIONS AFTER THE PREPARATORY COURSES

You would naturally be anxious to know what is to follow once you complete the Preparatory Courses.

After successfully completing the BPP you will receive a letter from the university asking you to take admission in any one of the programmes for which you are eligible. We have already indicated the list of programmes for which you would be eligible. Here, we will provide a brief introduction to the four major Bachelor's Degree Programme for which you are eligible. These are BA, B. Com, BSW and BTS.

BA/B. Com/BSW: These programmes are of 3 years duration each with 96 credits to be completed. Both the programmes are available in English and Hindi.

In both B.A. and B.Com. the programmes there are three types of courses, (i) Foundation courses – these are common in both, (ii) Elective courses – there is a set of elective courses for B Com, while one has to choose from a wide range of disciplines for BA, (iii) Application oriented courses – these are in a range of skill oriented or vocational areas which are to be selected in the third year. In BSW there are no application oriented courses. A student has to undertake courses worth 24 credits of foundation courses and 72 credits of elective courses.

But before you go through the Table we would like to explain what is meant by credit which we mention so frequently.

Each credit means 30 study hours of a student. There are courses, each having either 4 credits or 8 credits weightage. So each four credit Course would require you to spend approximately 120 Study hours (30 hours × 4 credits). Similarly, if you have opted for a course that is of 8 credit weightage, you may have to put in a total of 240 study hours (30 hours × 8 credits).

You may now go through the table:

 You can specialise in one subject which means you will earn 48 credits (40 in Mathamatics) in that particular subject. In this case you will recieve a major in that discipline. You can also opt for a combination of courses from above mentioned subject(s) of your choice.

 Application Oriented courses are those courses that would help you if you want to take up employment. Doing one or more such courses is compulsory in IGNOU for getting a Degree. depending on the number of Elective courses you have done in the first two years, you may opt for either one or more. In any case, the total credits for these courses should not be more than 16.

BTS: BTS is also a 3 year degree programme and is available in both English and Hindi. It has the same Foundation Courses as those in BA and B Com. The rest of the courses are in the area of Tourism with a few (12 credits) in other disciplines. Since BTS is a professional programme there are no separate application oriented courses. In fact the whole programme is application oriented.

In all, you should study courses which will earn you 96 credits in a minimum period of 3 years to be eligible for a BA, B Com BSW or BTS Degree. The maximum period granted is complete these courses is 6 years. Once you recieve the intimation from the University please fill the form, get a draft for requisite fee and send it to your Regional Centre.

With all these unique features lined up for you, we are confident that you will find the courses educative, and interesting. After you finish the course, you would discover how useful the lessons are in your day-to-day activities.

We hope to have answered all your questions. You may still have doubts or clarifications to make. In such a case, please do not hesitate to write us. You can also contact IGNOU's Students' Service Centre, Maidan Garhi, New Delhi-110068. You are welcome to call on us for queries about specific courses at addresses given below:

Let us now have a look at the syllabi and structure of the Preparatory Courses.

9.1 Preparatory Course in General Mathematics (OMT-101)

In every activity of your life, you have been using some mathematics. In the future too, you will come across many instances where you need to use basic mathematics directly or indirectly. The idea of this course is to give you some understanding of such basics which will help you to study other subjects as well as to tackle some problems that arise in day to day activities.

You must have studied some mathematics at your school level. But you may not have developed a clear understanding of the basic concepts then. In this course we have explaining several concepts in the context of situations where you would use them. We expect this to help you gain more confidence in these areas.

The course is developed in a manner that includes concepts which you will come across while studying for your Bachelor’s Degree Programme. The concepts are chosen in such a way that they will help you learn Commerce, Mathematics and Social Sciences. Apart from this it chiefly aim to develop your logical thinking abilities, and your ability to be precise in thinking and communication.

The syllabus is broadly divided into four areas in mathematics, and presented in four blocks as shown below.

Block 1 Numbers
- Unit 1 Why Do Mathematics?
- Unit 2 The World of Numbers
- Unit 3 World of Fractions
- Unit 4 Decimal Fractions

- Unit 6 Counting Without Counting
- Unit 7 Permutations and Combinations

Block 3 Geometry

9.2 Preparatory Course in Social Sciences (OSS-101)

The Preparatory Course in Social Sciences is designed to familiarise the student with an overview of critical historical social, political and economic affairs with focus on India. It incorporates the disciplines of Economics, History, Political Science, Public Administration, and Sociology in an interdisciplinary framework.

We begin with the distinction between Sciences and Social Sciences, the nature and scope of Social Sciences, and relevance of Social Sciences in everyday life on the one hand and in developmental planning on the other. We explain the major sources of data, and inter-relationship between and among different disciplines that constitute the Social Sciences.

Thereafter, we draw attention to state and society both in India and across the globe in a historical perspective. The emphasis shifts on the nature of society in India, Indian Constitution, governance for development in India, nature of natural and human resource, regional imbalances and planning in India and major challenges to democracy in India.

We discuss the global concerns regarding pollution and degradation of natural resources, rate of population growth, sex-ratio, and illiteracy. We conclude with discussion on the state of contemporary world including issues of collapse of Soviet Union and formation of unipolar world and emerging regional cooperations.
