11.23 The School Board Members unanimously suggested that the School of Extension and Development Studies should be re-named as SCHOOL OF DEVELOPMENT STUDIES as majority of its Courses fall under Development Studies and there is enormous potential of Development Studies in the coming years. There are 27 Development Study Centres under ICSSR and few IITs and Universities have already started MA Programmes in Development Studies. It will not be out of place to mention that UGC has also recognized Development Studies as one of the Disciplines in NET Examination for which request was placed from the School.
