Introduction

In the ODL system, programmes are offered through both print and non-print media. There is an important role played by audio/video programme which are specially designed to reduce the distance between the learner and teacher. IGNOU has followed the inclusion of electronic media in the development of its programmes and has a vast number of audio visual resources. The development of A/V resources by faculty requires specialized and continuous training as these have a mass appeal and are available to not just learners but also the public at large. Therefore there is a need for ensuring that there is high quality in the development of these resources. IGNOU has recently recruited new faculty and there is a need to train them in the design and development of A/V programmes.

Earlier STRIDE conducted a 'Six Days Short Term Programme on 'NEP-2020 & Higher Education: Design and Development of Audio/ Video Programmes from 23-28 May 2022. This programme is a follow up to review the progress and implementation of the learning of the earlier programme.

The outcomes of this Follow up STP were as follows:

- To review the script writing skills for audio and video presentations
- To review the scripts designed and develop during the past six months
