FOCUS ON OUTCOME BASED EDUCATION

The University has made definite efforts for designing and disseminating the Learning Outcome-based Curriculum Framework (LOCF) comprising Programme Outcomes (POs), Programme Specific Outcomes (PSOs) and Course Outcomes (COs) for all academic programmes. The attainment of POs, PSOs, and COs are integrated into the assessment process as outlined in the concept mapping of the PG and UG Degree; PG Diploma; Diploma and Certificate programmes. (<http://www.ignou.ac.in/userfiles/LOCF%20%20document%20%2013th%20Dec%202019.pdf>). As mentioned in the NHEQF document, the LOCF of the University's Degree programmes outlines the expected graduate attributes, PLOs/CLOs on the basis of the curriculum design; and assessment methods/ procedures to assess the achievement of the listed attributes by the learners.

Keeping pace with the emerging ethos of institutionalizing an outcome-oriented higher education system and enhancing the employability of graduates, the University constituted a Committee to develop a sample structure for 4-year UG and one-year PG Degree programme in compliance with the latest guidelines of UGC, namely National Higher Education Qualifications Framework (draft) (https://www.ugc.ac.in/pdfnews/2142241_NHEQF-Draft.pdf). The Committee was also entrusted with the task to revise the existing Programme Proposal Form and the Programme Development Form to include the detailed LOCF component as proposed in the aforementioned UGC document. The LOCF of all the UG and PG Degree programmes on offer has been prepared accordingly. Faculty Development Programmes (FDPs) on Learning Outcomes based Curriculum Framework are being organized from time to time. The major focus of the feedback tools (<http://ignou.ac.in/ignou/aboutignou/icc/ciqa/forms>) prepared for the academic year 2021-22 was on outcome-based teaching and learning practices developed for major stakeholders namely teachers, learners, subject experts, academic counsellors, alumni and employers. Outcome-based education is also reflected in the feedback reports (<http://ignou.ac.in/ignou/aboutignou/icc/ciqa/forms>).

The University has developed Programme Learning Outcomes Framework on the lines of the Draft of the National Higher Education Qualifications Framework circulated by the UGC. The Framework addresses different expected outcomes of the academic programmes which include among others development of knowledge, skills and their application; constitutional obligations; promotion of humanistic, ethical and moral values; and enhancement of employability and entrepreneurship skills.
