13. Strengths (in 100 words)

I consider humility and passion to achieve, are my core strengths. I always have looked beyond what is obvious and available and pursued a perspective outside my zone of work and comfort. My mission of life and passion has made me a self-motivated, purpose driven individual. During my stint as an academic administrator I have exhibited my skill of solving problems and my ability to take quick decisions. I have leveraged my communication skill to work in a team and build consensus. My commitment to learning has empowered me to dispense with the assigned responsibilities. Above all those, emotional and social quotient are dominant attributes of my personality.
