STRIDE
Workshop on NEP 2020: e-Assessment for Online Programmes

Organised by
Staff Training and Research Institution of Distance Education
Indira Gandhi National Open University

07-09 March, 2022

Background

Assessment is one of the important tools to measure the outcome of various knowledge and skills gained by learners during and at the end of their studies/courses. Formative and summative assessments are designed and implemented in ODL based on the subject/discipline requirements. As the educational system of moving towards blended and online learning, different types of assessment may be created to assess the learner's performance.

NEP 2020 detailed that "...with a robust system of continuous formative/adaptive assessment to track and thereby individualize and ensure each student's learning" (p.9), "...each learner in the cognitive, affective, and psychomotor domains. It will include self-assessment and peer assessment, and progress of the child in project-based and inquiry-based learning, quizzes, role plays, group work, portfolios, etc., along with teacher assessment" (p17-18). To implement the e-assessment as mentioned in NEP 2020, faculty of all discipline should participate the continuous professional development programme to enrich themselves to meet the needs.

IGNOU is offering 34 online programmes using MOODLE LMS as learning environment. MOODLE provides various assessment formats which can be incorporate in the courses to measure the learners performance which facilities the faculty to motivate learners through online. In this context, STRIDE is organising workshop on e-Assessment for online programmes for the faculty of IGNOU (especially a those who are offering or proposed to do so programmes).
