

A Report on Virtual Incubation Training in the Idea to Start Up Scheme- Towards Being Your Own Boss

Due to the sudden outbreak of the Covid-19 pandemic, NCIDE was unable to meet the shortlisted students of the Idea to Startup Scheme in person. Thus, in order to reach out to these students and to provide them necessary guidance in taking up their project plan further, NCIDE initiated a series of Virtual Incubation and Training Sessions on “Towards Being Your Own Boss” between April, 27 2020 to May 14, 2020.

The series consisted of six sessions covering topics like An Overview of Entrepreneurial Skills, Innovation Startup and Business Plan, Setting up an Enterprise, How to Form Business Proposal for Startups and Marketing Strategies. All the sessions were quite interactive where the students discussed their startup ideas and proposals. At every stage of the sessions the students were given various constructive suggestions to relook their proposed plan and come up with more concrete business plans. The students were also given certain activities.

Experts, Faculty members of NCIDE and Students Interacting during the Sessions

Dr. Jyotsna Dikshit
Deputy Director, NCIDE and Workshop Co-coordinator